

Area students get Horatio Alger Scholarships

<http://theadvocate.com/features/people/1006684-123/youth-news-for-october-7.html>

October 7, 2011

The Horatio Alger Association of Distinguished Americans awarded scholarships to outstanding high school students in Louisiana. Students from The Advocate's readership area are listed below.

The students were selected because they persevered in overcoming adversity while succeeding academically, contributing to the community and exhibiting exemplary character, a news release said. Each scholar received $10,500 for college.

The scholarships are made possible by William J. Doré, who has sponsored the Horatio Alger scholarships for 10 years.

The 2011 recipients are:

- Audie Alger, Lafayette High School, Lafayette.
- Alexandra E. Flores, Lafayette High School, Lafayette.
- Blake J. Gotch, Northside High School, Lafayette.
- Myles D. Haydel, Ascension Catholic High School, Donaldsonville.
- Markell Lewis, East Feliciana High School, Jackson.
- Lisa M. Locascio, Hammond High School, Hammond.

- Timothy D. Moore, Southern University Lab School, Baton Rouge.
- Stephanie Tilley, Live Oak High School, Watson.
- Keirsten D. White, Opelousas Senior High School, Opelousas.
- Gayla D. Williams, Northside High School, Lafayette.
- Tyler A. Young, Lafayette High School, Lafayette.